

Top 10 Kids Activity Tips that will Save your Sanity

By Julie Hazard // The Mom Survival Guide

Kid's Activity Tips

Don't get overwhelmed by your kids activities. Use these fantastic tips to keep you sane..

01

Use an old adult size t-shirt for a craft/paint shirt for your kiddos = Less Laundry!

02

Use old bath towels or sheets for drop clothes under the table and on the table under the craft being done = Less Cleanup!

03

Use glue sticks instead of liquid glue = Less help from mom and less messes!!

04

Buy Kid Scissors = Less help needed from mom to cut things!

05

Use what you have.. Egg cartons=paint palettes. Cotton balls=paint brushes. = Saves you money.

06

Think outside the box. If something is too hard for your child to do, change it so it is easier. Or remove it all together. = Less frustration from your child.

07

Create an Activity Center to house all of the materials you need for your kid's activities = easy to find supplies you need.

08

Create a binder or notebook of all the things your child likes so you can refer to it next time.

Buy an age appropriate activity guide to keep in your activity center for quick, easy access to fun activities.

Be sure that any activities you find or activity books you buy are made to be quick and easy to use with materials you already have in your home.

I hope these tips save your sanity a little bit the next time you do an activity with your kids!

Thank You!

